LONDON, March 13.—(AP)—A demand that the United Kingdom government apply sanctions to fire is embodied in a question to be asked of Prime Minister Winston Churchill at the next sitting of the House of Commons. It will be sponsored by Fred L. Savory, Conservative member for Queen's University, Belfast.

Savory is expected to maintain that the existence of German and Japanese representatives in Dublin is inconsistent with fire's status as a member-embassy of the British Commonwealth.

It is understood that if Savory considers Mr. Churchill's reply unsatisfactory, he will try to start a debate by the technicality of raising the question again on a motion for adjournment.

Other actions
Measurably drastic curtailment of shipments of food, coal, oil and machinery to fire and closure of the northern Irish border were predicted as the next Anglo-American steps in retaliation for German and Japanese refusal to move early today by banning virtually all travel between Britain and one hand and northern Ireland on the other.

Though northern Ireland is included in the travel embargo, it was aimed primarily at fire, which was German and Japanese ally.

Winnipeg, March 13.—(CP)—The European invasion is not imminent, but it is not far off, according to "optimistic prophets" have suggested, said George V. Fernie, Free Press, today in an interview.

Mr. Ferguson returned to Winnipeg from the weekend after a mission to London as a member of a party of Canadian officers.

He said he gained the impression that invasion plans are not yet in the final stages, and taken into account the public and military conditions, the Allied thrust against Europe is not imminent.

Mr. Ferguson said he was playing card havoc with the German people, but it has not yet been proved that it is having a decisive effect on the war production of the Reich.

Professors who expect a rapid conclusion of the war were in for disappointment.

Mr. Ferguson said Berliners were not in the mood for taking decisions on post-war problems. They have adopted the attitude "we wait and see what happens."

Premier King Reveals Government's Decision In House of Commons

OTTAWA, March 13.—(CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King announced today in the Commons that the Federal government has decided to lift the restrictions upon the supply of beer which may be released for sale to the provinces.

Mr. King said that the lifting of the restrictions would become effective immediately and that hereafter the distribution and sale of beer will be the exclusive control of the provinces themselves.

Mr. King said that Dec. 16, 1942, the federal government limited the quantity of spirits, wine and beer to be released for sale in the period from Nov. 1, 1942, to the end of 1943, to 70 and 90 per cent respectively of the quantity released in the previous 12 months. since its choice has been neutrality, that is Ireland's concern.

No formal note has been received from the Irish government asking for Canada's intervention in Washington and London. It is understood, however, that the Canadian high commissioner in Dublin, Hon. John J. Kearney, was informed by the Irish government of American and British action, and Mr. Kearney is understood to be in touch with his government here in Ottawa over the week-end.

External affairs officials had the Irish issue in full study over the week-end. The form of the Irish appeal for aid is being studied, and it is expected a formal reply, if Canada made a reply, it would merely state that it was in sympathy with the American and British action.

The Irish issue provided one of the most delicate problems to Canadian public opinion. It is believed that the Canadian public is divided on Ireland, some saying the Irish are neutral, others that they are not. The Irish are not their own affairs without interference by Britain or any one else, others arguing that Irish neutrality is a menace to the Allied war effort, and that the question of the right of a British nation to settle on Ireland is a matter of international law.

Travel Between Britain, Ire Now Suspended

matic and consular representative has been keeping a close watch on travel from preparations in Britain.

CONCERN REVEALED
Ireland's concern over the possible repercussions of her refusal of an American request for the removal of Axis officials was revealed by the fact that she asked Australia to intervene for the withdrawal of the American note.

At Canberra, Prime Minister John Curtin said Australia would only reject the Irish plea, but not fire she was in accord with the American request and hoped the Irish government would accept the needed supplies from abroad.

A sharp reduction in the shipments of wheat, oil, coal and machinery to Ireland was expected momentarily in order to release more of United Nations shipping possible for the opening and maintenance of western front.

With only a handful of ships of her own, Ireland has been largely, probably almost wholly, dependent on British and American ships and United Nations vessels to bring her needed supplies from abroad.

THREATS INDIATED
A London Daily Mail dispatch from Northern Ireland said curtailment of shipments of oil and coal line probably would force suspension of his service in many sections of Ireland.

Shortage of coal, of which Ireland brought 100,000 tons a week, is a few days' supply on hand, threatens to close industries and force thousands of Irish to be dispatched said. Ireland depends entirely on British and American ships for oil, coal and machinery and in large part, for her wheat and other goods.

The Daily Mail also reported that closure of the Northern Ireland border was under consideration in London and Washington, a further means of preventing leakage of the western front.

American technicians working in Northern Ireland already have been prohibited from travelling to Ireland. The British home office order suspending all travel between Ireland and Britain was issued on Saturday. The order was based on the fact that the full consignment of Washington and full agreement of the Irish government to the British.

The Daily Mail's diplomatic correspondent said he understood that the British government had received information which caused him to believe "Axis freedom in Ireland was a real menace to the Allied cause."

"He was said to have urged the immediate action of the British government to the elimination of Axis agents."

The Irish mail train left London this morning two-thirds empty. Only a few score passengers were on board, and it was not surprising that they would be permitted to board the boat though they had previously purchased tickets.

The Press Association said Irishmen aboard the train, mostly labourers, voiced strong sentiments against the stand of Premier Ramon De Valera of Ireland in refusing to expel Axis officials and defend British action in restricting travel as a necessary precaution.

Curtin, 1944, by British United Press
WASHINGTON, March 12.—Secretary of State Cordell Hull told his press conference today that the United States' firm position toward Ireland was inspired by fear of future use of that country as a base for Axis espionage rather than by evidence of past information leaks.

Hull said he was in answer to statements by Prime Minister Ramon De Valera of Ireland and the Irish minister to the United States, Brendan Brennan, both of whom have said that there have been no instances cited of information reaching Germany through Ireland.

PRESENT PROBLEM
Hull said he would not need to contradict such statements, especially since the United States position is related to the present problem of the possibility of espionage.

The recent notes exchanged between the United Kingdom, American and Irish capitals, with no doubt of Allied concern over the presence of enemy agents on Irish soil while American troops and preparations are under way nearby, and many other factors, he said, had led to the present position.

But some observers interpreted the United States' position as a base for Axis espionage rather than by evidence of past information leaks.

Few Can Be Spared

Redistribution of Alberta Doctors Is Said Best Plan By National Health Survey

By JAMES MCCOOK

OTTAWA, March 13.—(CP)—Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick have no physicians available for military service, while Saskatchewan and Alberta have only a few who could be spared in a "real emergency," said a national health survey report tabled today in the Commons.

The few doctors available in Alberta and Saskatchewan could best be used if they were redistributed within their provinces. Nova Scotia and Manitoba possibly could spare a few more physicians for the forces, but any further enlistments must be limited "since their medical manpower already is at a relatively low level."

In British Columbia, 66 doctors were potentially available for the armed services. In Ontario 445 were considered to be in this category.

In British Columbia, 66 doctors were potentially available for the armed services.

FOR CIVILIAN MILITARY NEEDS
The doctors not eligible for military service but who were available for civilian military services associated with the war effort were given as follows:

Quebec 299; Alberta 200; Ontario 150; Manitoba 151, and British Columbia 116.

These physicians, presumably, are those who might be used to advantage elsewhere serving the civilian population," said the report. "In the case of the provinces, Manitoba and Alberta, they would undoubtedly be required within the province, while in the case of Ontario, Quebec and British Columbia, some might be spared for points outside the province."

"The number of physicians in this classification in the remaining provinces, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island and Saskatchewan is not large, to talking it in all."

BARE MINIMUM

In a review of available doctors by military districts, the report said that in No. 12, Saskatchewan, the number of medical men was at a bare minimum in most areas and practically all in some.

"A few districts might still be considered as adequately served. The majority of doctors remaining in the province were elderly, and the natural tendency of physicians to seek more congenial or more lucrative practices has left many large areas almost without care."

"Most of these areas were relatively undesirable for private practitioners owing to poverty, poor transportation facilities, and lack of hospitals."

Alberta as a whole had an adequate number of doctors under wartime conditions but they were not equitably distributed. "Too many of the physicians are located in cities and too few in rural areas," said the report. "Though still not at the critical level of medical services, this point is not far off."

The public health situation in military district No. 13 (Alberta) presents a pressing problem. This group appears to have lost more personnel without replacement than any other."

In district No. 16, Manitoba, some doctors might be spared from the city of Winnipeg, said the report. Rural areas were down to a minimum in medical manpower.

FAVORABLE POSITION

District No. 11, British Columbia, occupied one of the most favorable positions of any Canadian area in respect of available medical manpower, although some shortages had been experienced, but not as severely as in New Brunswick and Saskatchewan.

In March, 1940, 8614 active physicians were left to serve the civilian population, while 3,000 were on active service. Only 417 per cent of those remaining in civilian life were less than 45 years old.

"The decreased supply of physicians coupled with increased civilian demands has meant longer hours of work and a greater strain on the physicians remaining in civilian practice," said the report.

"While the overall supply of physicians may be sufficient under

Back-to-Work Move Starting In Mine Strike

LONDON, March 13.—(CP)—

The week-old strike of 100,000 miners which is estimated to have cost Britain 300,000 tons of coal began slowly breaking up today with early reports indicating possibly a third of the men back at work.

The situation as a whole, however, was confused. Some miners who voted yesterday to return to their jobs turned around and went home the morning after meetings at the pitheads. The shutdown still was complete in some areas.

A full ministry official in Wales said the situation there was "so fluid that they are unable to make any estimate yet" concerning the number back at work. "We will not put a proper picture until later in the day."

SITUATION CRITICAL

The back-to-work movement, which followed a split vote Sunday on the question of continuing the strike, ended most of the pithead meetings in North Wales and Scotland to resume operations and their put is expected to be normal by tomorrow.

The situation in the great South Wales fields, virtually paralyzed by the strike, remained calm, however. Among those voting against a return to work were miners in the large collieries in South Wales—Parr and Dore, with 3,000 employees.

The holdouts also included usually all the 8,000 miners in the Aberdare Valley, about 10,000 in the Rhondda Valley and more than 4,000 in the Tredegar Valley in Monmouthshire.

"Monty" Expects War To Extend Into Next Year

LONDON, March 13.—(AP)—

Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery declared Saturday that "we have got this war absolutely gripped in a firm hold and the enemy cannot escape," but he predicted that the fighting would probably extend into next year.

In another confident expression, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, supreme commander of the Allied invasion forces, told graduates at the Royal Military College at Sandhurst that he hoped to meet them soon, east of the Rhine.

Montgomery's commander of British ground forces under Eisenhower, told war workers on a tour of tank and gun plants that "I have not the slightest doubt that if the battlefront and homefront really get down to it this year, we can get the thing almost finished—held so tightly that next year we will just topple it over."

BARON DIES

LONDON, March 13.—(CP)—Lord Aireide, second Baron of the House of Lords, died at his home in Essex Saturday at the age of 80.

A widower with seven daughters, he is succeeded by his brother, Ronald Dudley Aireide, 61.

In normal conditions, the situation would be considerably more serious with the outbreak of an epidemic.

Wait for Knockout Opening

Battle of Beachhead Resembles Wary Sparring of Pair of Giants

ANZIO BEACHHEAD.

Italy, March 13.—It is as if two giants are jabbing warily at one another with light lefts, waiting for the right moment to try a knockout punch.

That has been the tense atmosphere on the beachhead for the past 10 days. Soldiers whose solid uniforms are as red as the earth they have been living in for the past month wonder when something is going to happen.

"When are we going to kill them?" they ask repeatedly.

The beachhead never can be described as quiet. Night and day the big guns bark. The roads are ripped and cracked by the bursting shells. The white of Allied steel passes overhead toward the enemy lines and not a bigger expenditure of artillery ammunition than in any previous Allied campaign.

SHELLS DROP EVERYWHERE

Enemy shells drop everywhere—seeking out ships in the harbors of Anzio and Nettuno, highways, supply dumps, troop concentrations. In the front lines shells burst in the fields, on the roads ahead and behind and in the air, sending fragments pouring down on the men huddled in muddy holes.

The Allied forces—and presumably the Germans—have moved underground. Tommies and doughboys have managed to produce very luxurious holes in the water-soaked, sandy earth.

Fighting is continuous. During the day, German and Allied armored units creep up the shell-pocked highways and infantry patrols move through mud patches, over ravines and flat, grassy prairies, seeking contact.

PATROLS AT NIGHT

At night, patrols from both sides are out in varying strength around the whole perimeter of the beachhead, engaging in weird hand-to-hand battles in the bright moonlight.

Report Goebbels Nearly Victim Of Blockbuster

NEW YORK, March 13.—(AP)—

Paul Joseph Goebbels was declared in a CBS broadcast from Madrid yesterday to have escaped by only a few minutes from a blockbuster explosion which wrecked the Hotel Bristol during an R.A.F.-R.C.A.F. raid on Berlin the night of Feb. 15.

Quoting a neutral traveller from Berlin, CBS correspondent Glenn Stekler said the Nazi propaganda minister was entertaining a group of high government officials and army generals in a Bristol salon on Unter den Linden when the alarm sounded.

Goebbels found safety in a bomb-proof shelter elsewhere, it was stated. Stekler said that nine days later more than 1,000 bodies had been recovered and all the wreckage had not been cleared.

NIPPON BASES IN CAROLINES BOMBED

WASHINGTON, March 13.—(AP)—

The navy announced Saturday bombing raids on Japanese positions on Ponape and Kusaie in the Caroline Islands and on two enemy-held atolls in the eastern Marshall Islands. No fighter interception was encountered. Explosions and fires were observed among ground installations at Ponape and waterfront facilities were hit at Kusaie. All attacking planes returned to base.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—(AP)—

A two-ounce, four-centimeter airline 11,000 miles long is giving the world's fastest long-haul supply service to the United States forces in Burma. Operated by Pan-American Airways under contract to the Army Air Transport Command, the line flies on a split-second schedule from a route in India for one week, cutting a day each way from the best previous time for the run to the other side of the world.

2 Nazi Commanders In Russia Replaced

By JAMES M. LONG

LONDON, March 13.—(AP)—Two German commanders on the Russian front—Field Marshal Guenther Von Kluege, commander-in-chief of the centre and Field Marshal Georg Von Kuechler on the northern flank—have been permanently relieved and replaced by commanders who are strong Nazis and not from the Junkers generals' caste, a usually-reliable informant said today.

ably because of wounds received, Kuechler's replacement, said this source.

Information from Germany said he was wounded seriously, presumably by action of partisans behind the lines or from Russian bombing. A week ago he was replaced permanently by Gen. Ernst Busch, who was promoted to field marshal for the new post.

Von Kuechler was replaced by Gen. Walther Model—reportedly because of "the stress of the campaign."

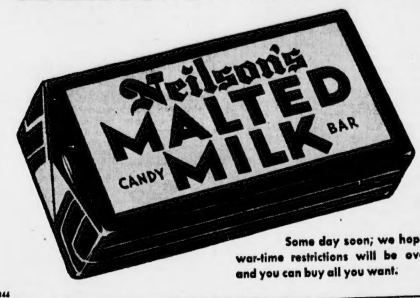

Both Busch and Model are regarded as unspectacular but capable commanders. Both have come up from the ranks.

The command which Busch has taken over from Von Kluege represents a 300-mile front from northern White Russia through the Pripiet marshes.

Von Kuechler's command was a shattered one on the Leningrad front where Hitler demanded a "stand to the death"—and got, instead, a retreat into Estonia.

Life span of a crab is 20 years.

(Excerpts from reports by Mr. M. Van Winkle, Chemist, of the University of Michigan)

Specific Gravity: 41.5 A.P.I. The sulphur content of the oil is relatively low—0.15%. The crude oil approximates in characteristics a mid-continent crude oil of comparable A.P.I. gravity. However, it differs from the mid-continent in that the gasoline content is higher than that for the average mid-continent crude, and the lubricating oil content is somewhat less. The sulphur content is lower than that of the average mid-continent sample.

How to Provide Vote For Forces Is Being Studied

By JACK WILLIAMS

OTTAWA, March 12.—(CP)—The problem of how to give the member of the armed services a chance to vote in the next Dominion election is being tackled by members of a special House of Commons committee—and they are finding it a complicated one.

The committee has undertaken a study of methods followed by other Commonwealth countries as a basis on which to discuss what plans Canada should make.

MANY DIFFICULTIES

Already two national votes have been taken during the present war period, but neither presented the difficulties which are inevitable in the next election if it comes before the end of the war.

When the 1940 general election came Canadian forces outside the Dominion were then well concentrated in the United Kingdom.

Now the difficulty is that Canadian soldiers, sailors and airmen are scattered all over the world.

So far, the committee members have not committed themselves to favor either proxy voting or a direct vote. Their research has shown that direct voting has been followed in recent elections by Australia and New Zealand.

South African regulations provide for service men to vote for a party rather than a candidate, overcoming the difficulty of relating information on candidates but presumably ruling out votes for independent candidates.

PROXY VOTING

In the United Kingdom regulations there is provision for proxy voting by members of the forces outside the Kingdom. Those who are in the Kingdom may vote in person if they are within reach of their own constituency or may vote by mail.

R.C.A.F. representatives have suggested to the committee that the only method by which they could assure, from an administrative point of view, that every man would have a vote would be to automatically designate his next-of-kin in Canada as his proxy and then provide opportunity for him to change this to some other person if he desired.

Removal of Labor Minister Is Urged

By WILLIAM MARCH 12

(CP)—A resolution urging the removal of Federal Labor Minister Mitchell was approved at the seventh annual convention here Saturday night by the Ontario District Council of Labor and Paper Mill Unions.

Harvey Raymond of Thorold, Ont., a vice-president of the International Brotherhood of Paper Makers, expressed belief that cabinet ministers interfered with Mr. Mitchell's work.

He asserted that if the minister was allowed to do things in his own way Canadian labor would get a better deal.

Mr. Raymond charged that the shortage of pulpwood was caused by the "shortsightedness" of federal and provincial governments and manufacturers in not realizing the necessity of the paper industry in the war effort.

Western Officer Made Brigadier

By WILLIAM MARCH 12

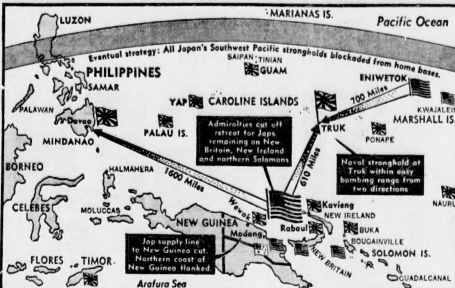

OTTAWA, March 12.—(CP)—Defence headquarters Saturday announced promotion of Lt.-Col. John F. Bingham, 32, of Victoria, to rank of brigadier in the Canadian Army overseas. Brig. Bingham, one of the youngest officers to hold that rank in the Canadian Army, is a son of Lt.-Col. R. F. Bingham, a veteran of the South African and First Great War, who retired from the First Great War of the then permanent active militia in 1908.

Small Canadian Navy Boat Sinks

By WILLIAM MARCH 12

HALIFAX, March 12.—(CP)—A Canadian Navy duty boat—a harbor craft—sank in Halifax harbor Saturday night after running into a patch of ice, but all 20 men aboard the vessel were rescued. The men aboard climbed onto the ice as the boat sank and a rescue vessel picked the group up later.

Stalin Hailed At Political Meet in Italy

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK

NAPLES, March 12.—(AP)—

Three Leftist Italian political parties protested yesterday against the death of King Victor Emmanuel and the government of Marshal Pietro Badoglio as well as Allied support of them at a mass meeting which was interrupted by a pistol-waving youth.

The youth was elected by a group, angrily brandishing clubs, after he drew a pistol, they said, while a girl was waving a Soviet flag on the death of King Victor Emmanuel and the government of Marshal Pietro Badoglio as well as Allied support of them at a mass meeting which was interrupted by a pistol-waving youth.

REUNION WITH COUNTRIES

Eugenio Resse, one of the Communist leaders, returned to the platform shortly after with a loaded Italian army pistol which he had taken from the youth.

Red flags were waved at the meeting, clenched fists raised and placards carried.

One of the placards read "Down with the Fascist King," "Down with Badoglio," "Down with the King and up with the republic," and "We want work and bread."

Other placards said: "We ask to contribute to the victory of the Allied army," "Viva U.S.A. (United Kingdom), U.S.S.R., U.S.A., Italy," and "We want work and bread."

UNITED STATES

Refused Sale

Ship to Eire

WASHINGTON, March 12.—(AP)—The state department announced Saturday night it had refused sale of a merchant ship to Eire because it was not a neutral country and would be used by the Irish flag despite Eire's policy of neutrality towards the Axis.

Although the refusal was made more than a month before the United States asked Eire to abandon neutrality, the fact it was so long in coming was said to be a reflection on the heels of disclosure that the Prime Minister had rejected the abandonment request strongly indicated a firmer American policy on economic co-operation with Ireland is in operation.

Disorders Continue
In Strike Areas
Of Northern Italy

BERNE, March 12.—(AP)—Street fights in Bologna, a series of partisan attacks in Florence and the threat of a new strike in Milan marked the outbreak of another wave of violence in Northern Italy.

The Swiss Telegraph Agency said Saturday Fascist militia were killed or wounded in Bologna and bombs thrown in several sections.

Workers at Milan, residence of a fine of 2,000,000 lire ($200,000) imposed for previous strikes, were declared ready to strike again.

Air Power Breaking Through To China

By Maj. A. P. de Seversky

Recent successful operations in the Pacific bring into focus the problem of breaking through to China and other large land masses from the ocean side. It is a problem implicit in the assertion of Admiral Chester W. Nimitz that he aims to get the forces under his command moving across the Pacific and setting up bases in China.

The question that arises is whether the concentrated sea-and-air forces which took the Marshall and captured Truk can penetrate the Japanese-controlled Caroline waters. Recently, the Japanese in China, General Joseph W. Stilwell, has some doubts about this.

In any case, he has stated that the vital Chinese operations cannot wait for the break-through through the Japanese blockade.

There is a good deal of optimism on this matter. To the observers, it would seem that the Japanese forces are moving in a bee-line towards the southern land route of the East Indies, the Philippines and Java. This over-simplified idea rests on the knowledge that the Japanese navy is greatly inferior to our navy and therefore cannot bar our road to the mainland.

Neither prisoners of war nor civilian internees get enough to eat. The individual diet is limited to bowls of rice a day, one at each meal, with a little salt.

The guerillas in Malaya, consisting principally of Chinese with a sprinkling of natives and Indians, are led by British and Australian officers who preferred fighting to surrender and who made the Japanese with liberal supplies of arms and ammunition.

Our Navy, of course, can attempt to augment its own long-range firepower by bringing it along in the form of carrier-based aircraft. But plan for these carrier-based aircraft are no match for land-based bombers. Besides, the Navy's air power must operate from carriers.

G.B.S. States Irish Policy Is Justified

LONDON, March 12.—(CP)—

George Bernard Shaw says the Irish are justified in refusing to "abandon neutrality" by according to the United States request that the expert Axis diplomats, and adds he believes sanctions would be an insult to the Irishmen fighting with the Allied forces and would have a contrary effect.

In an exclusive interview yesterday with J. C. Toole of the Daily Sketch, Shaw asserted:

"Of course they are justified. The suggestion of sanctions is outrageous and an insult to the Irishmen who are fighting with the Allied forces. It is quite inexcusable."

ADMITTED PREMIER

Long before America entered the war I tried to get Prime Minister Ramsden De Valera to abandon neutrality and join in. I told him he wouldn't get away with it. He didn't think he would either, but described my suggestion as "vulnerable."

"He said he would fight anybody who invaded Ireland. He said if Germany tried it, England would be forced to protect Ireland."

"But De Valera did get away with it," he said, "he saved Ireland's neutrality and gave England an opportunity—which is now presented—of making an unusual magnanimous gesture."

Asked if the Irish "have a real grievance against the English," Shaw replied:

"You should know. We have centuries of grievances against them."

Canadian Sailor Hurt But "Lucky"

HALIFAX, March 12.—(CP)—

Since the day in August, 1943, that a German glider bomb bored through his ship, the Canadian destroyer Athabaskan, Signaling Officer Charles Kent, Calgary, all were in hospital, but he still thinks he's lucky.

His bomb had exploded when it hit instead of after it had gone through. It had had a lot more than his broken legs to worry about," he said from his bed in the naval hospital here.

Chadwick has one leg still in a plaster cast, but he can get around on crutches and hopes soon to have the cast removed and get home on convalescent leave.

Five men aboard the destroyer were killed and twelve wounded. At the time of the attack, the cabin with Sub-Lt. John A. Breher, Montreal, and Telegraphist Charles Kent, Calgary, all were badly wounded.

Chadwick, "lucky" and a hangover the next thing I remember was a funny gassy smell from the bomb," said Chadwick.

Health Report

Control of Doctors' Moves, Provision for Replacement In Rural Areas Is Urged

By JAMES MCCOOK

OTTAWA, March 12.—(CP)—Control of the movement of doctors from one locality to another and provision for replacement of doctors in rural areas no longer able to carry on was recommended in a 350,000-word national health survey report tabled in the Commons today by Defence Minister Ralston. The survey was completed in June, 1943.

Forestry Head

The report, resulting from a survey of the Canadian Forestry Service, reviewed health services and requirements in detail and made numerous recommendations.

It said some authority should be employed to take measures to ensure the maintenance of present minimum health services. No further enlargements of public health personnel should be allowed without consent of the province concerned and post-graduate courses in public health should be accelerated.

REGIONAL WAGE LEVELS

Regional wage levels for hospital employees should be established and hospitals paying appropriate wages should be able to look to the National Selective Service for necessary staff.

Recommendation was made for a National Health Board to be set up to formulate a national policy for Canadian health personnel. Membership would be drawn from the various professional agencies which co-operated in the survey.

Hospitals would be necessary to meet standard requirements. Hospital employees would be paid on a scale of 100 employees and full-time services at the rate of one physician for 3,000 employees.

The report said the procurement of medical personnel should be accelerated. It suggested that the government should provide physicians and nurses as required by industry. Part-time services of physicians in industry should be made at the rate of one physician for 100 employees and full-time services at the rate of one physician for 3,000 employees.

Ask Conditions For All Nurses Be Improved

OTTAWA, March 12.—(CP)—Vacations without pay, poor pay, long hours with increased responsibility and enlistment in the services have caused a "serious shortage of nurses in Canada," a national health survey concluded in asking for more attractive conditions for nurses.

A two-page nursing section of the survey, conducted by the Canadian medical procurement and assignment board, was tabled in the Commons by Defence Minister Ralston today.

The report showed that Canada had 22,643 nurses, which, in spite of general shortages, was an increase over the 1939 total. Saskatchewan and mental hospitals were having more than other institutions and organizations.

MORE RESPONSIBILITIES

The report said "in addition to the increased nursing load, it is true that nurses are also performing more and more carrying responsibilities both in hospitals and community health work that were formerly undertaken by doctors."

The report suggested a study be made of the question of bringing former nurses back to the profession and said that besides the many who were housewives, 1,746 were engaged in other work.

Believe Record Set On Toronto Flight

OTTAWA, March 12.—(CP)—Three hours and five minutes after a standard Lancaster bomber made airborne at Winnipeg it roared in for a landing at nearby Toronto airport, establishing what was believed to be a record for the trip.

Airic Taylor, chief test pilot and flight manager for Victory Aircraft Ltd., who flew the four-engine L-4, said yesterday a standard Lancaster bomber was established on the Toronto-Winnipeg run, made in 3 hours and 30 minutes.

Trans-Canada Airlines alone seven hours for the flight between Toronto and Winnipeg, via Kapuskasing, a distance of 1,122 air miles. Taylor's course took him in a straight line across Lake Superior, over South Star Island, down the middle of Lake Huron and into Winnipeg Bay to complete the distance at about 80 air miles.

New Bluebeard Case in Paris As 25 Women Found Butchered

LONDON, March 12.—(CP)—Paris was reported excited yesterday over a new bluebeard case following the discovery of 25 women in a Rue Le Sueur "horror" house near the Arc de Triomphe.

The German agency D.N.B. said a "Plot" was a suspect. The agency's broadcast dispatch added that the killer apparently lured the victims into a vacant villa he rented, slew and dismembered them and burned the bodies.

An earlier Berlin broadcast said the house was owned by a Dr. Plot who lived in the Rue Caimartin, but that the doctor had vanished before police arrived there.

Discovery of the crimes came when neighbors reported a stench covered in the villa's furnace room, beds, arms, legs and other organs, all of whom, D.N.B. said. The courtyard dump also said to have contained a dozen human limbs.

The mystery was reminiscent of the "Bluebeard" legend. Landry's slayings, including 10 women, sent him to the guillotine in 1931.

REPORT ON NURSES

The survey showed Canada had 22,643 nurses, and of this number 8,206 had expressed willingness to enlist, while 24,909 were available for military service. There was a waiting list for the armed forces of 2,744. Of the total number of nurses registered, 22,316 are practicing in civilian life.

The survey said that in February, 1942, 2,284 dentists were attempting to serve about 11,000,000 people or at the ratio of one to every 4,800.

Recommendations in the report set forth the following in respect to dental services:

1.—Freezing and moving of dental units in the field, controlled by the procurement board.

2.—Provision be made that physicians in the field or on military selective service and those in other categories be made available for service either in the field or on military selective service.

3.—Physicians called up by national selective service and found to be in military categories be re-examined by special military medical boards whose decision shall be final.

4.—Doctors called for service as dentists be given priority for assignment to military service.

5.—Salaries for dentists be increased to a level commensurate with the distribution of medical manpower to be continued.

6.—When an agreement board has given the same powers with respect to disposal of dental services as to disposal of dental services to grant interim licenses to practice to military doctors serving in the field who may be called on to give service to civilians.

ASSIST CIVILIAN DOCTORS

Doctors in the field should be encouraged and permitted to assist civilians in the field who are consistent with their military duties.

By Commandos Veteran Home from Reich, Tells of St. Nazaire Raid

By FRANK LOWE

LONDON, March 12.—(CP)—When the senior surviving officer realized the escape boat was sunk and said grimly, "Boys, you'll have to walk home," he probably never expected that the youthful lieutenant who lay wounded among the rubble of blasted St. Nazaire would ever return to Britain.

But Stuart Chant, a hardy Scot from the Gordon Highlanders, survived his wounds and almost ten years of German prison camps, and now is back in London with the first eye-witness account of what happened when British Commandos made their famous raid on St. Nazaire, March 28, 1942.

Chant was in charge of a party detailed to look after the St. Nazaire dock and wharves before the raid. He landed he suffered shrapnel wounds in his right arm and left leg, but managed to get ashore with his party.

"My party ran like hell to the pumping station," he said, "and blew in the steel door and descended the stairs. I was the last man below the ground we laid our charges . . . then we raced out and lay on the ground."

"A second later the explosion came and huge concrete blocks fell through the air above us. We took our remaining explosives and ran back to the pumping station to complete the job, but found nothing much was left."

Not so fortunate were those detailed to attack the bridges and gate at the harbor entrance. Their motor launches landed or had lost their engines before they could reach the bridges.

After discovering the motor launches had been blown up, the men decided to shoot a path through to the coast. But there was no time to do so, for Chant was hit in the knee. There he and another soldier were captured by German troops.

Chant said after that he was taken to a German hospital and later to a prison camp, from where he was released only recently.

Ottawa Lifts Its Restrictions On Beer Sale

federal government was a war measure, enacted to increase the country's total war effort.

"No account is taken or mention made of the fact that the production and consumption of alcoholic beverages in 1942 had reached the highest level in Canada's history. Instead, the poster is designed to show that the beer is the property of the government of Ontario, the action of the federal government is arbitrary, unfair and unnecessary."

IN EXCESS

The amount of beer released for sale over the whole country since the restrictions were imposed was per cent in excess annually of the amount which had been released for sale in the year prior to the outbreak of the war.

Today the beverage stores of Ontario, where the notice of the Ontario Liquor Control Board is posted, are not being allowed 90 per cent of the beer which the province has been restricted by the federal government to 75 per cent.

"The posting of the notices can be regarded as a gesture toward the federal government. I am pleased to see that the beer release government held responsible for the whole 25 per cent reduction."

DEVELOPMENT

Mr. King said that last year in the Alberta legislature the Ontario Liquor Control Board stated that "some of the provinces were tipped off to the fact that the beer release government held responsible for the whole 25 per cent reduction."

These statements were "without foundation" and it was found that in the year ending Oct. 31, 1942, Alberta failed to take up its full share of the beer release government held responsible for the whole 25 per cent reduction."

"The public has been increasingly led to believe that the supply of beer to be released for sale within its restriction. The provinces have no difficulties in distribution, and are due solely to action on the part of the federal government."

"This province is now freed from any federal restriction as to quantity of beer to be released for sale within its restriction. The provinces have no difficulties in distribution, and are due solely to action on the part of the federal government."

NEWS that Don Culley would be with the Edmonton Vios for the series with West Westminster gave the chances of the Alberta senior squad a real lift. Don left on the midnight for Calgary and will work out with the team today. He has been playing with Luscar in the Coal Branch local all season and should prove a valuable addition.

Last winter Culley performed with the Barracks Army squad in the Alberta Services League and the previous year with the George Meale Leafs. He joined Frank Coulson's Old Elks after first season as a junior with Edmonton Canadians.

It would also be quite appropriate if Harry Black, another Edmonton would arrive back from California in time for the series and join the old team-mate Culley. This pair could add terrific drive to the Vios. There is a possibility that Joe Brown may be on hand to help.

CANADIANS PLAY TONIGHT
COACH JOE BROWN'S junior Canadians have a chance to secure the Trail series tonight after dropping the first of the Alberta British Columbia playoffs on Saturday. Should the Edmonton juniors lose they will have no further interest in the Memorial Cup playoffs and Brown could reach Calgary in time for Calgary's game with Ledesters.

And by the way, it looks if by the juniors may possess some of the power claimed for them by their supporters at the commencement of the season. The press reports stress the fact that they are well taken care of in the first round of the playoffs. A very potent point string effectively spearheaded by young Frankie Turk.

Although the weather again did not affect the quality of the attraction offered by the Glomora Skating Club at 119 Street rink on a rubber game.

Doenitz Speaks

Observance of Heroes' Day
In Reich Gloomy Affair

By RUSSELL LANDSTROM

LONDON, March 13.—(AP)—With a somberness befitting a death march through a plague-blacked city, Admiral Karl Doenitz substituted for Adolf Hitler at the microphone yesterday and gave Germans a grim Heroes' Day assurance that a "pitiless struggle is being waged for the existence or annihilation of our nation."

Pope, in Peace
Appeal, Urges
Rome be Spared

find a way to peace, and save this message to the great radio in the square below to radio listeners around the world.

PEACE OF LIBERATION

"Once again we appeal to the responsible men in both belligerent camps not to let their names in any way be smirched by an act which history would never justify. We ask them to cast their thoughts and needs and efforts to a peace of liberation."

Speaking of the predicament of the eternal city, now ruled by German bayonets and toward which the tide of battle has been creeping, the Pope said this is a particularly grave hour.

Although each of the towns in nearly all continents has by an aerial war, which does not receive any law of restraint, already is a terrible indictment against the people of such methods, how can we believe that anyone might dare to turn Rome, this almighty city which belongs to all the world, to all places, and to which the Christian and civilized world look to for light, into a battlefield, into a theatre of war, thus penetrating an art military institution and abominable to the eyes of God and of humanity consisting of the high, of the most unthoughtful spiritual and moral values.

INTERRUPTED BY OVAION

A great ovation interrupted the Holy Father when he finished this message, and again the voice pressed hope that warring nations would "devote their thoughts, their intentions, their desires and their labor to the coming of peace free from all external and internal violence."

Pope Plus spoke in a clear, firm voice and before concluding with his blessing to the city and world "with all our hearts," he said: "In the name of the millions which this tremendous conflict has brought into misery and tears."

The Pontiff spoke for 20 minutes in his 12th broadcast, which was transcribed and translated by the Associated Press.

Before he started, the Vatican announcer contrasted the happy things which had heard in past years with yesterday's audience which he described as "burdened with suffering and grief."

Before the Pope appeared, the Vatican radio said the anniversary in connection with the anniversary would not assume the character of a first day in view of the world situation. The usual solemn papal service in theistine chapel was cancelled, it added.

DIPLOMATS PRESENT

The diplomatic corps was present and an immense crowd gathered in St. Peter's Square for the solemn blessing, the announcer added. The Pope was accorded an ovation upon his appearance on the balcony.

"We can see from your faces your pain and we understand them," His Holiness began. "Not a single one of your sorrows is unknown to me."

"From the day we saw our people in a void we ignored our spiritual fathers has stood ready to come to your help."

"Our appeal, although ignored, met with response from many quarters, and we know that they will take good care of them. But now that Rome is so tragically hit and mutilated and so many habitans have fled we again ask those who can help to intervene with the work and with the spirit in this charitable institution."

This war has not cost any of the capitals of Europe. But our home belongs to the whole world, to the whole Christian and to the whole human race. It is possible to turn this immortal town into a battlefield."

Christian love must again find a way to peace, and save this message to the great radio in the square below to radio listeners around the world.

"We can see from your faces your pain and we understand them," His Holiness began. "Not a single one of your sorrows is unknown to me."

"From the day we saw our people in a void we ignored our spiritual fathers has stood ready to come to your help."

26 Nippon Planes
Downed in Assault

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, March 13.—(AP)—United States bombers and fighters shot down 26 Japanese planes for certain and probably six more in a heavy assault Saturday on the Japanese base at Wewak on the northeast New Guinea coast, the Allied communiqué said today.

GUTS' FIRST NEED

One hundred and two tons of bombs smashed upon positions, fuel dumps and a number of parked aircraft on the attack on the base at the western edge of the Birmah Sea.

American troops of the 31st Cavalry Division on Los Negros Island in the Admiralty group and United States Marines around Talasea on Wollume peninsula, New Britain, were reported to be encountering no further opposition in their extended and consolidated positions.

Australian Bomber Command pilots sank a Japanese troop ship and barges near Talasea, which United States Marines captured last Thursday after a five-mile push across the peninsula from the west coast, where they landed last Monday.

CHATHAM, Montreal-born, holds the D.S.O. and Bar and the D.F.C. Chad talked of many things. Marriage—"It shouldn't happen" to a fighter pilot who can't divide his affections. Mary at home and a screaming Spitfire.

GUTS' FIRST NEED

Good pilots—"The first prerequisite is guts. Most of the pilots did not have the calculating genius of a Churchill. (P.L. George) had to rely on a sure shot from up close. It was the man who could get the enemy until he was in his tail who was the valuable man in combat flying."

Excort—Second—Ground deliveries accounted for the success. The Allied forces in 60 short trips he had to fly over one bomber through enemy fighter gun.

It added, however, that the return of the crew to act in the southwest Pacific would not affect the work of the Canadian command squadron in Britain.

By United Nations
Practical Approach To Peace
Organization Has Been Made

TORONTO, March 13.—(CP)—The United Nations have chosen "a practical approach" to the problem of constructing a peace organization. L. B. Pearson, minister-counselor of the Canadian embassy in Washington, today told the Canadian Club of Toronto.

A "logical and possibly a spectacular approach" would have been to call a grand United Nations assembly to deal with post-war problems. Instead special conferences were called to deal with special subjects and to set up permanent post-war bodies covering these subjects, leaving the vital political organization to be constructed later.

This procedure was demonstrated by the Hot Springs conference of last May which dealt with the problem of food and agriculture. Out of the conference came an interim commission representing the 44 nations which also were represented at the conference. The interim commission was given the task of drawing up a constitution and powers for a permanent United Nations food and agriculture organization.

It is hoped that these governments will soon accept the plan that the first permanent United Nations peace organization will be able to start work before the end of this year, said Mr. Pearson, de-

Ice, Snow, Biting Winds are Winter Companions of Canada's Merchant Marine

Before the war, Joe Smith, 28, drove an oil truck in Saskatoon, Sask., but now he is a petty officer gunlayer in the R.C.N.V. Pictou. Pictured here aboard a merchantman, Petty Officer Smith has seen duty many times at sea, including the battle of Crete.

The breath of the sea froze as it struck the deck of this Canadian merchant ship, and it is not a pleasant job to get rid of the ice that encrusts everything exposed on deck. But the ice must be removed at once so all rigging can be put into action without any delay in case of an emergency.

It isn't that Mrs. Roosevelt's South Sea nose-rubbing event has affected the Canadian Merchant Marine. These men on an ice-covered merchant ship at sea exchange lights for, on a wind-swept deck, it is out of the question to keep a match going.

To the average civilian, there's something wrong here. The lad, wearing only light swimming trunks, smiles as he sits on a cake of ice. But to those sturdy men of the Canadian Merchant Marine, this is only one of the many methods they use to prepare themselves for wintry weather on turbulent waters.

Calling for a modification of the 1943-44 school program so as to limit its application only to students who plan to continue their education in universities (and not in high school), a resolution to be introduced into the Legislature by Mr. Page (Ind.-Edmonton) will appear on Tuesday's order paper of the House.

Mr. Page's resolution, to be seconded by J. C. Mahaffy, K.C., (Ind.-Calgary) reads as follows:

1. To modify the new regulations of the Board of Education so that those students desirous of entering the University or the normal school.

2. To permit those students who are desirous of taking general or vocational courses a full choice of subjects, but including the obligatory subjects as considered for in the revision of 1937, viz. English, social studies, and physical education.

3. To grant a high school diploma to those students taking general or vocational courses who are successful in accumulating 100 credits.

Seeks Information About Insurance

J. C. Mahaffy, K.C., (Ind.-Calgary) has given notice that in Tuesday's sitting of the Legislature, he will ask the government five questions dealing with insurance.

Three of the questions deal with the Mutual Benefit Insurance Accident Association, and two deal with checking of accident and sickness policies by the superintendent of insurance.

Eleanor Roosevelt

MY DAY

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 21.—Eleanor Roosevelt, Sunday morning, we left Palm Beach for Miami. We drove to the Coral Gables hospital, which is an Air Force hospital, and we had lunch with the men at their mess. The familiar procedure had been before us. I could almost see the line at the mess hall in the Southwest Pacific, for I have not often eaten off similar trays since then. The food was excellent, the men seemed to be enjoying it.

This hospital, like the hospital in Palm Beach, is a very well adapted to the needs of the type of cases that are coming here. I think converted hotels have no great advantage for hospital care. I have only had two, three or four great big beds, which means that the men get more privacy and quiet.

There are some very remarkable men which make me marvel at the skill of the surgeons and the extraordinary modern scientific discoveries which have made such cures possible.

While in Palm Beach, we stopped at the Victory Canteen which is run by Mrs. Rex. It is kept open all year, even when the place, which are open only during the resort season, is closed. I met a lot of men with men writing letters, reading and eating. There were some of the boys and one from Santa Domingo. Later in the day, when we left the canteen, I met a man from Miami, which I had seen two years ago. We found many interesting personalities represented. The people seemed to have a happy time to sit down here, but we were told that such changes had been wrought in a short time as were evident on the men's recreation. The library and the game room and the upper dance hall were hard even to imagine when I was there be-

"The growth of corporations, coupled with the sale of stock to average citizens and the extent of the rights—his right to possess and use property, his right to life and to labor—has been the proper result of the growth of the system," he said.

IN every newspaper print in the country, the process are rolling at top speed... firing projectiles as vital to our victory as bullets or bombs.

Day after day the newspapers are giving us not only the news but also... through words, maps and pictures... a BETTER understanding of each day's events.

This clearer understanding of what the war means, and why we must win it, is the foundation of democracy's strength in battle... Through it we are learning how each of us in our own way can contribute to victory... Being thus well-informed, we are much further along the road.

Other ways of learning we have in profusion... BUT ALL OF US TURN INSTINCTIVELY TO THE NEWSPAPERS AS OUR BASIC SOURCE OF INFORMATION!

World News Highlights Presented in Picture Form

Ingenious and Devilish Are the Enemy's Explosive Traps Endangering the Unwary Canadian

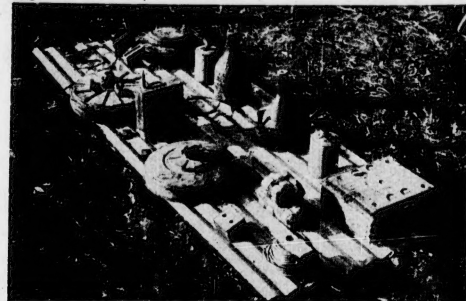

Most common form of booby trap is the Teller mine attached by an invisible wire to a S. type mine on edge of road. The fine wire can just be seen against the white paper. When the Teller mine is lifted, the hidden S. type mine is exploded.

Bamboo matting, found in many Italian houses, is an ideal hiding place for booby traps. Sgt. A. Kerr, Owen Sound, points to a likely spot hiding a mine.

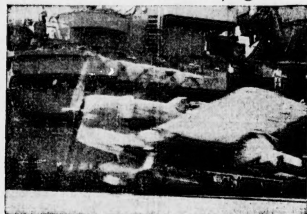

Sapper G. C. Bullock, Kingston, places a "Hot Cross Bun" to mark the spot where Sapper R. T. Gilpin, Toronto, indicates a mine. The instrument is a Polish detector.

Ever See a Ghost Flying?

Looking like a ghost plane in flight, a Grumman Helcat fighter presented this weird appearance as it took off from U.S. carrier to strike Jap bases in the Pacific. Plane was too fast for even speedy newscamera lens to "stop" the action.

Catch-as-Catch-Can!

That's Sinatra—and maybe a few spots—before the eyes of glorious Gloria, leading lady in Frank's picture, "Manhattan Serenade." For right after this scene was shot, Gloria came down with the measles—and they can catch up with even the great Sinatra.

Good Hunting Knife

Here's something you wouldn't want to run into on a dark night. Or would you? Anyway, May York of Pueblo, Colo., isn't really dangerous. She's just showing off the hunting knives sent to her by a friend from the Aleutians. The knives were made from Jap bayonets.

Jackpot For Sally

Sally, Great Dane pet of an R.A.F. Spitfire squadron in Italy, does her bit to provide reinforcements for the mascot brigade. Above, she fondly eyes her six new pups, held by Col. E. Pickering.

Tough Guy

Amiable smile brightening Jimmy Caprey's pan belies his fame as screenland's ace tough guy as he arrives at American headquarters in London. He will tour Yank camps to entertain troops.

Air Marshal and Airwoman Daughter

Air Marshal W. A. Bishop, V.C., top Canadian ace of the last war, offers congratulations to his daughter, Airwoman Maria Bishop, after her graduation from basic training at No. 7 Manning depot, Rockcliffe, Ont.

"Tommy's" a Jungle Fighter, Too

Typical British soldier on the Burma front is this Scot, whose fellow fighters, the Gurkhas, have wiped out scores of Japs.

Australian "digger," another typical jungle fighter, keeps his tommy-gun clean for future action.

First Photo: "Piat" Rocketeer in Action

hind smoke, left) with the new "Piat" rocket projector. Piat rocket-bombs will pierce four inches of the finest armor, wreck tank's interior and kill crew.

Canadian Nurses in Italy Pay a Visit to the R.C.A.F.'s Famed "City of Windsor" Squadron

Fighter pilots of Canada's famed "City of Windsor" Spitfire squadron pose with a group of Canadian nursing sisters, stationed with a hospital unit in Italy, when they paid a visit to the squadron station. The "City of Windsor" unit is one of the highest-scoring squadrons in the R.C.A.F.

Nursing Sister Lieut. Frances Hughes of Toronto, got a big laugh at her companion's joke during her visit to the "City of Windsor" squadron station in Italy. The humorist is Plt.-Lieut. Eric Mitchell, Portau, B.C. Canadian nurses are serving in North Africa and in Italy.

Corral Cutie

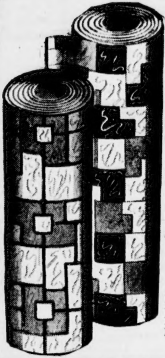

She looks like another "Pistol-Packin' Mama," but movie starlet Anne Gayvine, above, is "The Girl We'd Most Like to Corral" according to votes of cavalrymen at Ft. Riley, Kan.
